

Magic Workshop Team Activity

Learn a new skill to astound clients and colleagues alike. A professional magician will lead a close up magic workshop for a small group imparting the skills of prestidigitation, psychological methods such as misdirection and rapport-building as well as communication skills and awareness of group dynamics. By the end of the team building activity, all the participants will have learnt a trick or two and leave with the appropriate props to delight and entertain others.

The workshop leader will be a professional magician with first class sleight of hand magic, maybe he's a pick pocket too; he will also be a seasoned performer who can impart tips and techniques for holding an audience. Tricks can be customised and themed around a company's products and services.
